

SOCIETY

CONTINUED FROM PAGE TWO.

to Newport with Miss Viola Johnston and William McEwen Johnston, Jr., and will be here for several weeks.

Among the prominent people at the Greenbrier are Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Miss Anne T. Morgan, Miss Elsie Wolfe, Miss Elizabeth Marbury, Mr. and Mrs. James Speyer, Mrs. James A. Blair and Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair, Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnham Squires, Mrs. Samuel Rodger Callaway and Mrs. J. Frayley Smith.

Mrs. Barclay Warburton, of Philadelphia, who has been here since her return from Bretton Woods, the middle of August, has been joined by several others of the John Wanamaker family, including Mr. and Mrs. Norman McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Arturo de Heeren and Miss Mary Warburton. Mrs. John Wanamaker will be here in October, and also Mrs. Perry Belmont, who is now in Newport. Justice Lamar and his family will spend several weeks at their cottage here before returning to Washington, owing to the ill health of Justice Lamar.

ALEXANDRIA.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Duffey, pastor of the M. E. Church South, has returned after spending his vacation in the valley of Virginia.

Midshipman Chaplin S. Evans has returned to his home in this city after a visit to his aunt, Mrs. Charles F. Chicago.

Mr. H. R. Gary, Miss L. W. Gary, and Mrs. and Mr. John Gary have returned from a motor trip through the New England States.

Mr. Frank Bayless and Mr. Orlando Kirk are spending several days at Atlantic City.

Miss Mabel Lynch, of Manassas, has entered St. Mary's Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beverley and family have returned from Baltimore where they spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Jones.

Messrs. Robert Carter, A. M. Chichester, and Walter Chamblin, Jr., of Leesburg, Va., are students at the Episcopal High School.

Mr. W. F. Jones, of Richmond, was a visitor here during the week.

Miss Florence Anderson, accompanied by Miss Anna McCarthy, of Washington, D. C., have returned from Atlantic City and Philadelphia.

Miss Lila Barrett, who has been at her bungalow at Cape Henry, Va., has gone to St. Francis to join her mother, Mrs. Kate Walter Barrett, who will return home early in November.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goods announce the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. Charles H. Howell, November 3, 1914, by the Rev. Joseph P. McComas, rector of St. Anne's parish, Annapolis, Md.

Mrs. Lora Coleman, of Lynchburg, Va., was a visitor here during the past week.

Mrs. John Leadeater and children, who have been spending the summer in New Hampshire, have returned to their home in this city.

Mr. L. O. Hardin and wife have returned from a trip to Atlantic City, Philadelphia and New York.

Miss Edna Baader has returned to her home after spending ten days in Asheville, N. C.

Miss Mamie Nalls has returned to her home in Greenwich, Va., accompanied by her sister, Mrs. William L. Nalls, and son, Austin, this city.

Mr. Lewis H. Fawcett is visiting his mother in Prince street.

Rev. George Ekens has gone to Walton, N. Y., to attend the conference of the Free Methodist Church.

Mr. J. T. Preston, Jr., has returned from Fredericksburg, Va., where he visited for a week.

Mr. Paul Barrett has returned from Cape Henry, Va., where he spent his vacation.

Mrs. W. Clifton Cunningham and little daughter, Margaret, have returned from a trip to Richmond and Petersburg, Va.

Mrs. Henry O'Bannon Cooper and her sister, Mrs. D. Moxley Low, have returned to Mrs. Cooper's home on Brookside Heights, Alexandria County.

Miss Byrd Pullman, who has been Mrs. Cooper's guest, has returned to her home in Culpeper, Va.

MAJ. AND MRS. ARMES RETURN.
Guests of Army Friends During Trip to Portland.

After a two months' trip through the West, Maj. George A. Armes, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Armes have returned to Washington. Maj. Armes was sent to Portland, Ore., as a delegate from the Washington chapter, Sons of the American Revolution.

At Portland and at Denver and other cities visited by the couple they were the guests of their army friends.

Maj. Armes was one of the early Indian fighters of Colorado, and in the various campaigns distinguished himself by unusual daring.

At one time the governor of Colorado complimented him highly for chasing a band of Northern Cheyenne Indians with his cavalry command for more than 100 miles, being forced to swim two branches of the Platte River in the pursuit. Coming up with the Indians, he surprised them and destroyed the village, captured several hundred head of horses, mules, ponies, and cattle, and returned to Fort Sedgewick without the loss of a single horse or man.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINTS

To whiten and beautify the complexion permanently we have found no better preparation than a lotion made by dissolving four ounces of spumax in a half pint of hot water, then adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerin. This removes any pimples, shiny, muddy or sallow appearance, and will make any one's skin clear, smooth and velvety. It does not show or rub off like powder; in fact, it seems a part of the skin; and for removing tan and freckles is unequalled. It is necessary to shampoo more frequently in the warmer weather because of excessive dust and the fact that the head perspires more and is usually more exposed to the weather. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers can be prepared very cheaply by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthox, obtained from your druggist, in a cup of hot water. This rubbed into the scalp creates a thick lather, soothing and cooling in its action, as well as very beneficial to the scalp and hair. After rinsing the scalp is fresh and clean, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Adv.

MRS. J. A. PHILLIPS, a popular resident of Mount Pleasant, who leaves shortly for the San Francisco Exposition.

Emergency Hospitals Will Be Operated During Encampment

Medical Committee Arranges for Physical Welfare of Veterans—Visit to Battleships Will Be Feature of Entertainment Program—Bonfires to Blaze.

Three general emergency hospitals and fourteen ambulance stations along Pennsylvania avenue are to be in operation during the parade and review of veterans at the encampment here next week. The three temporary hospitals will be operated throughout the week. More than twenty-five physicians will be stationed at each of the hospital tents.

Arrangements for the physical welfare of veterans during the encampment were announced yesterday by Dr. Louis J. Battle, chairman of the medical committee of the reunion. Dr. Battle planned the fourteen ambulance stations and three hospitals following conferences with army officials and private practitioners.

The largest of the hospitals will be at New York avenue and Seventeenth street northwest, the War Department having loaned its biggest tent for the station. The hospital will be in charge of Dr. Samuel E. Watkins.

It is possible the parade will be extended from along Pennsylvania avenue to Seventeenth street and New York avenue that the exhausted marchers may be at the hospital tent at the finish.

The other hospitals will be at the Union Station, under the charge of Dr. J. F. Hilton, and in the old Census Building, directed by Dr. George C. Clark. The fourteen ambulance stations will be placed along the line of march of the grand parade. A full corps of physicians and Red Cross nurses with complete paraphernalia will be at each of the sub-stations.

The entertainment committee yesterday announced its program for entertainment week. One of the features will be visits to eleven warships to be anchored in the Potomac River. The committee, through Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman, has made arrangements to have scores of small powerboats convey visitors to and from the ships for a round-trip fare of 10 cents. The necessary licenses may be obtained from Capt. A. M. Gregory, of the National Yacht Club.

The committee has arranged to have bon-fires burn on the forts around Washington that were used during the civil war and signalling from one fort to another who take place every night and day during the encampment.

Cavalry Will Drill.
The battleships will be visited on Monday. Tuesday, following the tree-planting exercises at Lincoln Memorial, the Fifth Cavalry, in command of Col. Wilbur E. Wilder, E. A. will drill on the White Lot. A battalion of bluejackets of the United States navy will participate in a dress parade Wednesday afternoon on the White Lot.

The United States Signal Corps will demonstrate the use of the pack radio set in an exhibition and drill on the White Lot Thursday afternoon, following which the Medical Corps will hold an exhibition. Battery F, Third Field Artillery, in command of Col. Wilbur E. Wilder, will hold an artillery drill Friday at Fort Myer.

The program for the laying of the corner stone of the memorial amphitheater in Arlington at 2:30 o'clock October 1 has practically been completed. President Wilson is to lay the stone, but will not speak. It is believed the speakers will be Secretary Garrison, president of the memorial commission; Secretary Daniels, a member of the commission; Judge I. C. Kimball, also a member of the commission, and David J. Palmer, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. It is probable the full membership of the commission will be at the service.

A feature of the grand review and parade, as announced yesterday, will be the displaying of a duplicate of the banner under which the home-coming Union soldiers marched in the review before President Johnson at the close of the war. The duplicate banner will be hung across Fifteenth street from the Treasury Building to F street. The display is being arranged by the Legion of Loyal Women.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Spanish War Veterans of Washington will extend their official welcome to the civil war veterans on the first day of the encampment. The greeting will be made by Col. L. C. Dyer, commander-in-chief of the Spanish veterans.

Many veterans already have arrived in Washington for the encampment. Among the most prominent of the recent arrivals is Dr. Thomas D. Christy, a missionary from Tarsus, Asia Minor, Dr. Christy is a survivor of the First Minnesota Artillery of the Army of the Tennessee.

The members of the entertainment committee of the full encampment committee are: Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman; Richard L. Conner, secretary; Clarence R. Abell, Harry Allwood, Edwin R. Brooks, Charles E. Baisley, William E. Burns, Charles F. Crane, E. J. Febery, James N. Fitzpatrick, Colin E. F. Fisher, Moe W. Fox, E. Richard Gassch, J. Gockel, R. F. Helberstein, Lewis Holmes, Albert Hudson, George L. Isaman, Harry C. Knapp, J. Leo Kolb, Albert E. Lindquist, Charles F. Luman, Charles Lutz, C. R. Loddan, George H. McDonald, Charles B. Matthews, George H. Markward, Dr. Herbert E. Martin, Edgar A. Nelson, Jr., Claude W. Owen, George Pitt, William A. Rogers, Lieut. George C. Round, Francis M. Shore, Charles A. Smith, John J. Stump, Parker H. Sweet, 2d, Harry W. Taylor, S. W. Tetterton, Charles J. Waters, Fred J. White, Bert V. Wolfe, and Louis C. Wilson.

the Spanish War Veterans of Washington will extend their official welcome to the civil war veterans on the first day of the encampment. The greeting will be made by Col. L. C. Dyer, commander-in-chief of the Spanish veterans.

Many veterans already have arrived in Washington for the encampment. Among the most prominent of the recent arrivals is Dr. Thomas D. Christy, a missionary from Tarsus, Asia Minor, Dr. Christy is a survivor of the First Minnesota Artillery of the Army of the Tennessee.

The members of the entertainment committee of the full encampment committee are: Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman; Richard L. Conner, secretary; Clarence R. Abell, Harry Allwood, Edwin R. Brooks, Charles E. Baisley, William E. Burns, Charles F. Crane, E. J. Febery, James N. Fitzpatrick, Colin E. F. Fisher, Moe W. Fox, E. Richard Gassch, J. Gockel, R. F. Helberstein, Lewis Holmes, Albert Hudson, George L. Isaman, Harry C. Knapp, J. Leo Kolb, Albert E. Lindquist, Charles F. Luman, Charles Lutz, C. R. Loddan, George H. McDonald, Charles B. Matthews, George H. Markward, Dr. Herbert E. Martin, Edgar A. Nelson, Jr., Claude W. Owen, George Pitt, William A. Rogers, Lieut. George C. Round, Francis M. Shore, Charles A. Smith, John J. Stump, Parker H. Sweet, 2d, Harry W. Taylor, S. W. Tetterton, Charles J. Waters, Fred J. White, Bert V. Wolfe, and Louis C. Wilson.

the Spanish War Veterans of Washington will extend their official welcome to the civil war veterans on the first day of the encampment. The greeting will be made by Col. L. C. Dyer, commander-in-chief of the Spanish veterans.

Many veterans already have arrived in Washington for the encampment. Among the most prominent of the recent arrivals is Dr. Thomas D. Christy, a missionary from Tarsus, Asia Minor, Dr. Christy is a survivor of the First Minnesota Artillery of the Army of the Tennessee.

The members of the entertainment committee of the full encampment committee are: Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman; Richard L. Conner, secretary; Clarence R. Abell, Harry Allwood, Edwin R. Brooks, Charles E. Baisley, William E. Burns, Charles F. Crane, E. J. Febery, James N. Fitzpatrick, Colin E. F. Fisher, Moe W. Fox, E. Richard Gassch, J. Gockel, R. F. Helberstein, Lewis Holmes, Albert Hudson, George L. Isaman, Harry C. Knapp, J. Leo Kolb, Albert E. Lindquist, Charles F. Luman, Charles Lutz, C. R. Loddan, George H. McDonald, Charles B. Matthews, George H. Markward, Dr. Herbert E. Martin, Edgar A. Nelson, Jr., Claude W. Owen, George Pitt, William A. Rogers, Lieut. George C. Round, Francis M. Shore, Charles A. Smith, John J. Stump, Parker H. Sweet, 2d, Harry W. Taylor, S. W. Tetterton, Charles J. Waters, Fred J. White, Bert V. Wolfe, and Louis C. Wilson.

the Spanish War Veterans of Washington will extend their official welcome to the civil war veterans on the first day of the encampment. The greeting will be made by Col. L. C. Dyer, commander-in-chief of the Spanish veterans.

Many veterans already have arrived in Washington for the encampment. Among the most prominent of the recent arrivals is Dr. Thomas D. Christy, a missionary from Tarsus, Asia Minor, Dr. Christy is a survivor of the First Minnesota Artillery of the Army of the Tennessee.

The members of the entertainment committee of the full encampment committee are: Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman; Richard L. Conner, secretary; Clarence R. Abell, Harry Allwood, Edwin R. Brooks, Charles E. Baisley, William E. Burns, Charles F. Crane, E. J. Febery, James N. Fitzpatrick, Colin E. F. Fisher, Moe W. Fox, E. Richard Gassch, J. Gockel, R. F. Helberstein, Lewis Holmes, Albert Hudson, George L. Isaman, Harry C. Knapp, J. Leo Kolb, Albert E. Lindquist, Charles F. Luman, Charles Lutz, C. R. Loddan, George H. McDonald, Charles B. Matthews, George H. Markward, Dr. Herbert E. Martin, Edgar A. Nelson, Jr., Claude W. Owen, George Pitt, William A. Rogers, Lieut. George C. Round, Francis M. Shore, Charles A. Smith, John J. Stump, Parker H. Sweet, 2d, Harry W. Taylor, S. W. Tetterton, Charles J. Waters, Fred J. White, Bert V. Wolfe, and Louis C. Wilson.

the Spanish War Veterans of Washington will extend their official welcome to the civil war veterans on the first day of the encampment. The greeting will be made by Col. L. C. Dyer, commander-in-chief of the Spanish veterans.

Many veterans already have arrived in Washington for the encampment. Among the most prominent of the recent arrivals is Dr. Thomas D. Christy, a missionary from Tarsus, Asia Minor, Dr. Christy is a survivor of the First Minnesota Artillery of the Army of the Tennessee.

The members of the entertainment committee of the full encampment committee are: Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman; Richard L. Conner, secretary; Clarence R. Abell, Harry Allwood, Edwin R. Brooks, Charles E. Baisley, William E. Burns, Charles F. Crane, E. J. Febery, James N. Fitzpatrick, Colin E. F. Fisher, Moe W. Fox, E. Richard Gassch, J. Gockel, R. F. Helberstein, Lewis Holmes, Albert Hudson, George L. Isaman, Harry C. Knapp, J. Leo Kolb, Albert E. Lindquist, Charles F. Luman, Charles Lutz, C. R. Loddan, George H. McDonald, Charles B. Matthews, George H. Markward, Dr. Herbert E. Martin, Edgar A. Nelson, Jr., Claude W. Owen, George Pitt, William A. Rogers, Lieut. George C. Round, Francis M. Shore, Charles A. Smith, John J. Stump, Parker H. Sweet, 2d, Harry W. Taylor, S. W. Tetterton, Charles J. Waters, Fred J. White, Bert V. Wolfe, and Louis C. Wilson.

the Spanish War Veterans of Washington will extend their official welcome to the civil war veterans on the first day of the encampment. The greeting will be made by Col. L. C. Dyer, commander-in-chief of the Spanish veterans.

Many veterans already have arrived in Washington for the encampment. Among the most prominent of the recent arrivals is Dr. Thomas D. Christy, a missionary from Tarsus, Asia Minor, Dr. Christy is a survivor of the First Minnesota Artillery of the Army of the Tennessee.

The members of the entertainment committee of the full encampment committee are: Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman; Richard L. Conner, secretary; Clarence R. Abell, Harry Allwood, Edwin R. Brooks, Charles E. Baisley, William E. Burns, Charles F. Crane, E. J. Febery, James N. Fitzpatrick, Colin E. F. Fisher, Moe W. Fox, E. Richard Gassch, J. Gockel, R. F. Helberstein, Lewis Holmes, Albert Hudson, George L. Isaman, Harry C. Knapp, J. Leo Kolb, Albert E. Lindquist, Charles F. Luman, Charles Lutz, C. R. Loddan, George H. McDonald, Charles B. Matthews, George H. Markward, Dr. Herbert E. Martin, Edgar A. Nelson, Jr., Claude W. Owen, George Pitt, William A. Rogers, Lieut. George C. Round, Francis M. Shore, Charles A. Smith, John J. Stump, Parker H. Sweet, 2d, Harry W. Taylor, S. W. Tetterton, Charles J. Waters, Fred J. White, Bert V. Wolfe, and Louis C. Wilson.

the Spanish War Veterans of Washington will extend their official welcome to the civil war veterans on the first day of the encampment. The greeting will be made by Col. L. C. Dyer, commander-in-chief of the Spanish veterans.

Many veterans already have arrived in Washington for the encampment. Among the most prominent of the recent arrivals is Dr. Thomas D. Christy, a missionary from Tarsus, Asia Minor, Dr. Christy is a survivor of the First Minnesota Artillery of the Army of the Tennessee.

The members of the entertainment committee of the full encampment committee are: Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman; Richard L. Conner, secretary; Clarence R. Abell, Harry Allwood, Edwin R. Brooks, Charles E. Baisley, William E. Burns, Charles F. Crane, E. J. Febery, James N. Fitzpatrick, Colin E. F. Fisher, Moe W. Fox, E. Richard Gassch, J. Gockel, R. F. Helberstein, Lewis Holmes, Albert Hudson, George L. Isaman, Harry C. Knapp, J. Leo Kolb, Albert E. Lindquist, Charles F. Luman, Charles Lutz, C. R. Loddan, George H. McDonald, Charles B. Matthews, George H. Markward, Dr. Herbert E. Martin, Edgar A. Nelson, Jr., Claude W. Owen, George Pitt, William A. Rogers, Lieut. George C. Round, Francis M. Shore, Charles A. Smith, John J. Stump, Parker H. Sweet, 2d, Harry W. Taylor, S. W. Tetterton, Charles J. Waters, Fred J. White, Bert V. Wolfe, and Louis C. Wilson.

FRENCH DO NOT DOUBT BRITISH

Their Officials Are in Accord with Slow Movement of Kitchener's Men.

HOLD HUNDRED MILES

Three Million in Readiness to Move Into Battle—Held Back for Training.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.
London, Sept. 18.—Many Englishmen say if the French are really complaining because the British, in spite of their boasting of having raised a volunteer army of 8,000,000 men, are still only holding a front of only thirty-four miles, one must admit there may be something in their way of reasoning.

An officer of the French general staff, however, who is at present visiting London, assures me that French officers have absolutely no fault to find with their English allies, though he does not deny that the French people are growing.

Training Needed, Says Leader.

"We understand perfectly well," he said, "that when Marshal French preferred to establish his front in depth rather than extend it to the sides, it was because he wanted only successively to bring the newly trained men into the first line, that they might gradually become used to the actual fighting, which at this time has become a war veteran's game, indeed."

"Let me emphasize this, however, that Marshal French in no way doubts the value of the young troops sent from England, but as during his former campaign he has always been used to handling an army of professional soldiers and to commanding men in whom discipline in fact is the greatest asset, he has become an instinctive believer in the necessity to complete the training of the new bodies by a long apprenticeship in the third and second lines."

"Now he has accomplished his purpose and he may send the men who now constitute his rear lines into battle anywhere and at any time. They will stand as firm and attack with as much swiftness and strength as their professional comrades who form the backbone of the British armies. The same may be said, in fact, of the soldiers now coming over from England after a longer training—they are able to march direct from the transports into battle, as the Germans will soon find out."

"As a matter of fact, the maps I have seen in England showing a bird's-eye view of the English front were perhaps quite exact two months ago, but are no longer so, and I betray no military secrets when I say that if you start along our front from the Belgian coast you find first the Belgian army, then a French army, then the first English army, then again a French army, and after that a new English army, with a front of no less than 100 miles, and finally the bulk of the French. Altogether, there are now with us in the field an English army of approximately 1,000,000 men."

"As for the reserves, still in England, I am not permitted to say anything, as the English war office desires to keep the exact number secret, rightly asserting that the unknown is very often an important factor of success in war."

The writer is not permitted to give the name of this French officer, but it is one which carries great weight, and he was evidently very sincere when he spoke.

England Peace-loving.

But why have the English been so slow when they had these enormous masses of troops at their disposal, one hears doubters say. There were several reasons for this, the principal one being that when war was declared England was under no obligation to send any armies to the continent at all. The entente on this point was indeed as vague as it was cordial, though it was almost immediately decided to send the English army to France against a French army, and after that a new English army, with a front of no less than 100 miles, and finally the bulk of the French. Altogether, there are now with us in the field an English army of approximately 1,000,000 men.

"As for the reserves, still in England, I am not permitted to say anything, as the English war office desires to keep the exact number secret, rightly asserting that the unknown is very often an important factor of success in war."

The writer is not permitted to give the name of this French officer, but it is one which carries great weight, and he was evidently very sincere when he spoke.

England Peace-loving.

But why have the English been so slow when they had these enormous masses of troops at their disposal, one hears doubters say. There were several reasons for this, the principal one being that when war was declared England was under no obligation to send any armies to the continent at all. The entente on this point was indeed as vague as it was cordial, though it was almost immediately decided to send the English army to France against a French army, and after that a new English army, with a front of no less than 100 miles, and finally the bulk of the French. Altogether, there are now with us in the field an English army of approximately 1,000,000 men.

"As for the reserves, still in England, I am not permitted to say anything, as the English war office desires to keep the exact number secret, rightly asserting that the unknown is very often an important factor of success in war."

The writer is not permitted to give the name of this French officer, but it is one which carries great weight, and he was evidently very sincere when he spoke.

England Peace-loving.

But why have the English been so slow when they had these enormous masses of troops at their disposal, one hears doubters say. There were several reasons for this, the principal one being that when war was declared England was under no obligation to send any armies to the continent at all. The entente on this point was indeed as vague as it was cordial, though it was almost immediately decided to send the English army to France against a French army, and after that a new English army, with a front of no less than 100 miles, and finally the bulk of the French. Altogether, there are now with us in the field an English army of approximately 1,000,000 men.

"As for the reserves, still in England, I am not permitted to say anything, as the English war office desires to keep the exact number secret, rightly asserting that the unknown is very often an important factor of success in war."

The writer is not permitted to give the name of this French officer, but it is one which carries great weight, and he was evidently very sincere when he spoke.

England Peace-loving.

But why have the English been so slow when they had these enormous masses of troops at their disposal, one hears doubters say. There were several reasons for this, the principal one being that when war was declared England was under no obligation to send any armies to the continent at all. The entente on this point was indeed as vague as it was cordial, though it was almost immediately decided to send the English army to France against a French army, and after that a new English army, with a front of no less than 100 miles, and finally the bulk of the French. Altogether, there are now with us in the field an English army of approximately 1,000,000 men.

"As for the reserves, still in England, I am not permitted to say anything, as the English war office desires to keep the exact number secret, rightly asserting that the unknown is very often an important factor of success in war."

The writer is not permitted to give the name of this French officer, but it is one which carries great weight, and he was evidently very sincere when he spoke.

England Peace-loving.

But why have the English been so slow when they had these enormous masses of troops at their disposal, one hears doubters say. There were several reasons for this, the principal one being that when war was declared England was under no obligation to send any armies to the continent at all. The entente on this point was indeed as vague as it was cordial, though it was almost immediately decided to send the English army to France against a French army, and after that a new English army, with a front of no less than 100 miles, and finally the bulk of the French. Altogether, there are now with us in the field an English army of approximately 1,000,000 men.

"As for the reserves, still in England, I am not permitted to say anything, as the English war office desires to keep the exact number secret, rightly asserting that the unknown is very often an important factor of success in war."

The writer is not permitted to give the name of this French officer, but it is one which carries great weight, and he was evidently very sincere when he spoke.

England Peace-loving.

But why have the English been so slow when they had these enormous masses of troops at their disposal, one hears doubters say. There were several reasons for this, the principal one being that when war was declared England was under no obligation to send any armies to the continent at all. The entente on this point was indeed as vague as it was cordial, though it was almost immediately decided to send the English army to France against a French army, and after that a new English army, with a front of no less than 100 miles, and finally the bulk of the French. Altogether, there are now with us in the field an English army of approximately 1,000,000 men.

Philipsborn

THE OUTER GARMENT SHOP
608 TO 614 ELEVENTH STREET.

Open at 8:15—Close at 6 Daily.

Annual September Fur Sale. Women's Fur Coats and Sets

Substantially Below Season Prices.

Showing the Newest Winter Models.

A LARGE NUMBER OF COATS ARE TRIMMED WITH CONTRASTING FURS.

Pelts, Lining and Workmanship Guaranteed.

In this display you will find all of the authoritative fur styles for the coming season.

Copies of the newest Paris models that it was impossible to show during August.

For this reason we postponed our annual sale until September.

For the same quality we guarantee every price to be substantially lower than elsewhere.

We make no attempt to compete with irresponsible houses handling furs made of pieced skins.

To permit you to make comparisons, we will refund for any article returned unworn within one week of the date of purchase.

Also, we will gladly send to your home on approval any article you would like to compare with another from any other store.

The "Philipsborn" organization of stores throughout the country handles such vast quantities of furs that no other local store can hope to purchase under the same favorable conditions.

We call your particular attention to the fine workmanship, perfect fit and graceful lines of our fur coats, which are exact replicas of very expensive Paris models.

FALL SUITS, COATS AND DRESSES

AT SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY PRICES

These special prices are for the purpose of inducing early shopping, to relieve the pressure of busy October days in our alteration and fitting departments.

We assure a snug saving, and complete assortments to choose from, to far-sighted women willing to do their fall shopping now.

Serge Dresses, regularly $20.00.....$15.00

Silk Dresses, regularly $25.00.....$20.00

Afternoon Dresses, regularly $37.50.....$29.50

White Chinchilla Coats, regularly $20.00.....$15.00

Tweed Balmacaans, regularly $20.00.....$15.00

Sport Coats, regularly $20.00.....$15.00

Navy or Black Coats, regularly $20.00.....$15.00

Navy Serge Suits, regularly $30.00.....$25.00

Black Serge Suits, regularly $30.00.....$25.00